This is the fifth professionalism award for Rocco Sinisgalli, founder and president of Oneida Builders, and his team. Sinisgalli notes, “We are honored to be recognized in such a significant way. We take great pride in our craftsmanship, design and exceptional customer service. The fact that our customers are delighted by the final product and readily refer us to their friends is so satisfying.”

Sinisgalli (who goes simply by “Rocco”) has been involved in construction and renovation for 20 years, both in his home state of New York and in Atlanta. Rocco is a Master Craftsman and Certified Graduate Remodeler. Oneida Builders is a member of the Greater Atlanta Home Builders Association, and is active in numerous industry organizations. Rocco serves as chairman of the Remodeler’s Council, and was vice president and president of the Inner Atlanta Chapter in 2000-2001. In addition to the recent OBIE awards, Oneida Builders won three Gold and two Silver Professionalism Awards for kitchen remodeling in 1998 and 2001. Rocco is a certified EarthCraft House renovator. He has used the process to renovate spaces across Atlanta, including his own whole-house renovation in Dunwoody. An EarthCraft renovation is environmentally-conscious and provides significant benefits to homeowners such as better indoor air quality and lower utility bills. Rocco was recently featured on FOX 5 TV Good Day Atlanta sharing cost-saving tips with viewers.

Note: The bathroom renovation was completed on a home in the Country Club of the South (Atlanta, Georgia) and offers the homeowners a spa sanctuary with an elegant, classic design.

The whole house project was completed on a 1970’s traditional style home in Dunwoody (Atlanta, Georgia) and includes the renovation of the kitchen into a gourmet retreat.
